Why the Board of Trustees needs your vote

IMRF’s Board of Trustees governs IMRF and protects your benefits. Ultimately, you decide who is speaking for you—your vote counts!

As an IMRF member, you have a unique opportunity to elect your own Board of Trustees.

“We have eight Trustees, and they’re all elected. A lot of retirement systems have people appointed,” said Louis W. Kosiba, IMRF Executive Director.

When a board has appointed members, conflicting interests between who appointed the trustee and who the board is supposed to represent can be a concern.

“The Teachers’ Retirement System has people appointed by the governor. They might not have the same interests as the teachers,” said Kosiba. “The Chicago systems have the city treasurer on their boards,” he continued, “and the city’s interest and the retirement systems’ interests are not always the same.”

Ensuring IMRF’s success

“We really have a unique situation where everyone is elected by our members,” said Kosiba. “All of the Trustees are vested IMRF members, so every board member has an interest to ensure IMRF’s success.”

Your vote counts

“Democracy is not a spectator sport. You have to participate.”

vote actually does count,” added Employee Trustee Natalie Copper.

Take the time to vote

“Fill out that ballot and mail it in,” encouraged Copper. “You need people who are strong, people who are committed. So put your faith in them and mail that ballot in, because otherwise your voice will not be heard.”

IMRF’s Board of Trustees exists to protect your future

An eight-member Board of Trustees governs IMRF:

- One Annuitant Trustee elected by retirees like you.
- Three Employee Trustees elected by active members.
- Four Executive Trustees elected by IMRF employers.

IMRF’s Trustees are fiduciaries, which means they are required to act solely in the interests of you and your beneficiaries, and to make sure that your benefits are there for you.

What IMRF looks for in a Trustee

IMRF expects its Trustees to prepare for and attend meetings, and to work as a team to address issues faced by IMRF.

“IMRF needs individuals who are inquisitive, individuals who like a challenge, individuals who can work with their colleagues to make significant decisions concerning the operations of IMRF,” said Louis W. Kosiba, IMRF Executive Director.

Trustees do not need a background in investments and actuarial science, training is provided. They do, however, need to have a high level of curiosity and dedication. Patience is also a necessity.

“You have to be extremely patient, because you’re dealing with legislation, which moves at its own pace,” Employee Trustee Natalie Copper said.

“You can know basic investments, but if you don’t have the patience to go through it, you’ll still be lost,” she continued. “You have to have the patience to go through all the paperwork, and the patience to listen to members when they’re coming before you, such as in the Benefit Review Committee,” she said.

Empathy is also important. “You cannot have preconceived ideas about what is written on paper when it is a member coming before you—paperwork doesn’t tell everything,” explained Copper. “So I think you have to have empathy as well.”

Protecting your benefits around the clock

“It’s a 24/7 job,” said Copper. “You have to be informed. You can’t take a day off. Membership is working every day for their pension, so when you took that oath, you made a promise that it will also be your job to take care of it. These are people’s lives. They work hard for their pension; they deserve it.”

Board responsibilities

Some of the Board’s most important duties include:

- Overseeing IMRF’s administration.
- Approving benefit payments.
- Approving the budget.
- Setting asset allocation for IMRF investments.
- Hiring and firing investment managers.
- Setting actuarial assumptions used to calculate employer contribution rates.
- Setting employer contribution rates and enforcing payment.
- Ensuring the success of IMRF’s Strategic Plan.
- Setting IMRF’s annual Legislative Agenda.
2015 Annuitant Trustee election: Vote for your IMRF Board representative

Did you receive an IMRF annuity during the month of September 2015? Then you are entitled to vote in the election for one IMRF Annuitant Trustee for a five-year term of office, from January 1, 2016, through December 31, 2020. Included in this election packet you will find:

- This newsletter, which includes ballot instructions and candidate biographies
- A ballot (vote for one candidate on the ballot)
- A postage-paid return envelope

How to complete the ballot

Step 1

- Complete your ballot using a black or blue ink pen or black lead pencil.
- You will vote for one candidate on this ballot, for one five-year term of office. Completely fill in the circle in front of the name of the candidate you wish to vote for. See sample below.
- Want to know more about your candidates? Candidate biographies are included on pages four and five of this newsletter.
- Write-in candidates: You may vote for an IMRF member who will be receiving an annuity in January 2016, and who is not shown on the ballot, by printing his or her name in the space provided and filling in the circle in front of that line.

Step 2

- After you complete the ballot, place it in the enclosed return addressed envelope and sign the envelope Certificate before sealing.
- For your vote to count, you must sign the Certificate on the return envelope. The Illinois Pension Code requires this certification for each ballot to certify that you are a participating member in IMRF and are eligible to vote. Once sealed, the folded-over flap on the return envelope will prevent your signature from being visible.
- Envelopes with a blank Certificate will not have the ballot removed and the vote will not be counted. An outside tabulating agency opens the envelopes and immediately separates the ballot. At no time is your voted ballot identified with your signed Certificate.

Fill in the circle completely. You can use a pen or pencil.

Do not use a red pen or pencil. DO NOT check or “x” the circles.

From the Executive Director:

Pension and retirement rights

After nearly two years of work, a new constitution was crafted for the State of Illinois. On July 1, 1971, Article XIII Section 5 became effective: “Membership in any pension or retirement system of the State, any unit of government or school district, or any agency or instrumentality thereof, shall be an enforceable contractual relationship, the benefits of which shall not be diminished or impaired.”

This was an entirely new protection which had not existed in Illinois. Before 1971, public pensions were regarded by the courts as a gift by the state which could be changed or revoked at any time. So this provision provided a measure of protection and a guarantee to all public employees covered by a retirement system created by the General Assembly.

Funding concerns for the state systems

By the early 1970’s, the state was already derelict in funding those systems for which it was responsible. Public workers were concerned about whether their benefits would be paid. By guaranteeing the benefit, some of the drafters of this provision believed that government would take its obligations more seriously and better fund those systems. For that reason and perhaps for the desire not to mandate future spending, the Section did not mandate funding as well.

For the five state-funded systems, half a loaf was better than no loaf at all. Today those systems have 43% of the monies needed to pay for all the promised benefits. The good news is that not all the benefits are due and payable today. So there is no immediate fear of running out of assets. The bad news is that under the current financial structure it is extremely difficult for the State to fund those retirement promises and provide the other services expected and promised.

Your retirement is already funded

At IMRF, you have both halves of the loaf: a guaranteed benefit and an effective funding mechanism. At 93% funding, the IMRF trustees and staff continue to work to ensure full funding will be achieved. But remember, IMRF has set aside, in a separate reserve, 100% of the monies needed to fund your benefit for life. Article XIII Section 5 is nice to have, but money “in the bank” is great too.
