IMRF’s Strategic Plan: Roadmap to the future

IMRF’s overarching goal is to provide world-class retirement services for its members and beneficiaries. To ensure the organization accomplishes its goal, it follows a strategic planning process. Since 2005, IMRF has developed Strategic Plans for periodically reassessing the best direction to take in fulfilling its promise of world-class service to you as a member.

“The Strategic Plan provides the roadmap for meeting our challenges and leveraging our strengths and opportunities to provide excellent service to our annuitants, members, and employers,” said Dan Duquette, Deputy Executive Director. “It provides us with the structure to ensure that we’re sustainable and positioned to fulfill our promises. It tells us where we are, and where we need to go.”

Composition of the plan
IMRF’s Strategic Plan identifies Key Result Areas, the main areas in which IMRF’s performance will define success for the organization. For the 2017-2019 Strategic Plan, those four areas are Financial Health, Customer Engagement, Workforce Engagement, and Operational Excellence.

“If we’re successful in those four areas, we’re going to be very successful in fulfilling our promises,” Duquette said.

For each Key Result Area, there is a corresponding Strategic Objective. In the area of Financial Health, for example, the Strategic Objective is “To achieve and maintain a funding level that sustains the Plan.”

Then, for each Strategic Objective, IMRF identifies benchmarks for achieving that objective, and specific Action Plans for meeting those benchmarks.

Refinements to the plan
Following the best practice of “Using the Balanced Scorecard as a Strategic Management System” (Kaplan and Norton, Harvard Business Review, 1992), IMRF has tightened the focus in this year’s Strategic Plan from five Key Result Areas to four.

In addition, IMRF made Customer Engagement a Key Result Area of its own to emphasize its importance.

“If we truly engage our members, they feel more of an ownership of the organization and are willing to advocate on its behalf,” Duquette said.

Origins of the plan
Prior to 2005, IMRF senior leadership held regular Strategic Planning Sessions, but in practice those meetings tended to focus on the issues of the day and solving problems as they arose rather than long-term strategic planning.

Recognizing this, senior leaders, including Duquette and Executive Director Louis W. Kosiba, began to discuss how IMRF could become more strategic in its approach.

“We want to be a world-class organization that fulfills all the promises we made to our members, so we have to follow the right path. We can’t go this way or that way—there’s really only one path to take.”
—Dan Duquette, IMRF Deputy Executive Director

Kosiba charged Duquette with developing IMRF’s first formal strategic planning process, which aimed to develop a proactive approach for leveraging IMRF’s strengths to meet future challenges, and to define what success looks like for IMRF as an organization. The Board of Trustees and staff launched its first Strategic Plan in 2006.

IMRF develops a new Strategic Plan every three years. Originally it was every two years, but three years is more appropriate for an organization that has a long-term horizon, Duquette said. The 2017-2019 plan is IMRF’s fifth Strategic Plan.

The strategic planning process
As the strategic planning process begins, IMRF’s senior leadership and Board of Trustees examine IMRF’s Mission, Vision, and Values to determine whether they continue to reflect where IMRF needs to be as an organization. IMRF collects input from key stakeholders, including representatives from member and employee interest groups.

With these interested parties, IMRF staff and leadership, and the Board of Trustees, IMRF conducts a SWOT analysis to identify the organization’s major strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats.

Then, IMRF analyzes that information to determine its key strategic advantages, challenges, and opportunities for improvement. Potential challenges that IMRF might face over the next three years include volatile markets or legislative challenges. But IMRF also has key advantages: “We’re well-funded, we have an experienced staff, we have a good brand, and we have good processes, so we want to leverage those strengths,” Duquette said.

A few of the opportunities for improvement identified by the analysis include:

- Improving IMRF’s current funded status from 90% to 100%.
- Continuing to stabilize employer contribution rates.
- Ensuring that IMRF staff is engaged and stays focused on providing the best service to members, retirees, and employers.
- Improving our technology, including cybersecurity strategies.

With an eye toward making progress in these areas, senior leadership and staff develop corresponding Strategic Objectives and action plans for achieving them.

The importance of strategy
“‘You really need a plan,’” Duquette said. “‘Per an old quote, ‘A goal without a plan is just a wish.’”

He described a scene from Alice in Wonderland, in which Alice comes to a fork in the road and asks the Cheshire Cat which way she should go. When the Cheshire Cat asks where she wants to go, Alice says that she doesn’t know. The Cheshire Cat responds, “Then it doesn’t much matter which way you go.”

“But we know where we want to go. We want to be a world-class organization that fulfills all the promises we made to our members, so we have to follow the right path,” Duquette said. “We can’t go this way or that way—there’s really only one path to take.”

Executive Trustee

David Miller, Deputy Executive Director and Treasurer for the North Shore Water Reclamation District, was re-elected to the Board as Executive Trustee by IMRF employers. Miller’s new term will run from January 1, 2017, through December 31, 2021. Miller has served on the Board since 2015.

Employee Trustee

Employee Trustee Alex Wallace, Jr., a bus driver for Oswego Community Unit School District 308, was elected to the Board as Employee Trustee by IMRF members. His new term will run from January 1, 2017, through December 31, 2020. Wallace has served on the Board since 2016.

2017 Board Officers

Additionally, the Board has selected its officers for 2017:

- President: Sue Stanish (Executive Trustee)
- Vice President: Natalie Copper (Employee Trustee)
- Secretary: David Miller (Executive Trustee)

IMRF Executive Director Louis Kosiba to retire in 2017

Louis Kosiba, IMRF’s Executive Director since 2001, has announced his retirement at the end of this year, effective December 31, 2017.

IMRF will embark on a nationwide search for his replacement over the course of 2017, with IMRF’s next Executive Director to be announced before the end of the year.

“I am looking forward to my retirement at the end of 2017, but more importantly, I’m excited about working to ensure that there is a smooth transition for whomever takes my place,” Kosiba said. “I will be focusing on the transition and ensuring our Journey of Excellence continues.”

Throughout the year, IMRF will be highlighting Kosiba’s personal route to retirement as a way to give members a closer look at IMRF’s services. Stay tuned for more information in this newsletter, IMRF’s Twitter and Facebook, and www.imrf.org.

Your Personal Statement of Benefits

When you receive your 2016 Personal Statement of Benefits, please take a moment to look it over for accuracy.

If there are any problems, resolving them now could save you time and trouble when you’re ready to retire. Please make especially sure to review the front and back pages of your statement, along with your beneficiary information.

What’s on your statement?
Your annual Personal Statement of Benefits provides detailed information about the benefits available to you as an active IMRF member—retirement, disability, and survivor benefits. It includes your IMRF account activity for 2016 as well as an overview of past earnings, contributions, and employers.

When are statements sent?
You should generally receive your 2016 statement in late February or March. At that time, you will also be able to find a copy in your Member Access account by clicking “My Account,” then “Documents,” then “Member Statements.”

Your Member ID
Your Personal Statement of Benefits also includes your Member Identification Number. To protect your information, you can use this number in place of your Social Security Number when calling or completing paperwork for IMRF.
